

Unless there is a last-minute truce the operating employees of Missouri Pacific railroad will go on strike at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. This poses a problem for all the communities that depend on it for transport of people, mail and commodities.

The public is caught in the middle when management and labor disagree on the running of a big railroad. And there is nothing to be done except to wait until the strike is over.

In the all-American railroad strike of a couple of years ago this newspaper found that a transportation tie-up can really deal out trouble for the daily press. Half our circulation is rural or suburban, served by the federal mails, the most part — and when a railroad stops running the mails stop moving, or crawl tediously along highways by special transport.

The Star plans this time to maintain its service to rural and suburban subscribers just as it did when all the railroads were struck. We will move the Emmet, Prescott, Rosston, Blevins and McCaskill newspaper mail by special car to the Emmet and Prescott post offices every afternoon. This is the "main stem" mail run for the Hope-Emmet territory, for Prescott is the distributing center for post offices in Nevada county and northern Hempstead.

Falcons and Stamps being on the Louisiana & Arkansas railway, which is operating, will get regular mail service — but there is doubt about Lewisville, Buckner and other north LaFayette county points. Their mail must come by Hope or Texarkana, on Mississippi Pacific, and hence cast on the Cotton Belt into La Fayette county. It is presumed the Post Office department will arrange for movement of mail by highway to Texarkana, which is a major mail terminal.

9 Million Vets Apply for Dividends
Washington, Sept. 8 — (UP) — Some 9,000,000 World War I veterans already have applied for their life insurance dividend. Veterans administration sources estimate today.

By the end of the month, they said, almost 16,000,000 ex-G.I.s are expected to have staked their claim for a share of the $2,800,000,000 national service life insurance dividend.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray Jr., has said that because of the mechanical difficulties involved, payments cannot begin until early next year.

"We feel that most everyone who is entitled to a dividend payment on the basis of his World War I life insurance will have filed by the end of September," a VA source said.

"Some 7,000,000 applications were received during the first week after the dividend was issued on Aug. 20. Since then cards are coming in at VA's central headquarters at the rate of 1,000,000 a day."

"That means that about 9,000,000 veterans already have applied for the dividend. The present rate may be expected to decrease in the next two or three weeks. It is safe to assume, however, that by the first of October, all interested veterans will have made their intentions known on the dividend."

This source said central headquarters is concerned over the problem of the veteran who feels that he has filled in his insurance application form incorrectly.

If a veteran has sent in his insurance application and later finds it was filled out incorrectly, let him sit tight," the VA spokesman said. "He will be queried by VA on his incorrect or missing data. But he should not send in a new application, because that just slows up the whole works."

Tour Planned for 3rd Dist. Livestock Show
The annual tour for advertising the Third District Livestock Show started today. Earl Young, publicity chairman, for Third District Livestock show and Sgt. Short, recruiting officer, U. S. Army, are heading the tour. Sgt. Short has a sound truck supplied by the military. Stops will be made in all towns of the territory. Plans now indicate one of the largest crowds will attend the Livestock Show starting Sept. 19 through 24.

Mother Kills Herself After Slaying Baby
Bristo, Tenn., Sept. 8 — (UP) — Coroner Earl Beideman reported today that a 20-year-old mother killed herself as she wept over the grave of her baby she was charged with bludgeoning.

Glenn Mae Thomas shot herself with a pistol at the grave of Little Michael Thomas in East Hill cemetery, Beideman said.

She had been scheduled to stand trial Sept. 19 on a charge of fatally bludgeoning the child because "he cried too loudly."

The coroner said she left two suicide notes, one pinned to her dress and one to her bed.

"I did this because my baby is dead and they have got me for it. I wanted to die. I just didn't want to live."

Cotton Crop Forecast Shows Slight Increase

Washington, Sept. 8 — (AP) — The agriculture department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 14,943,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is 138,000 bales more than the 14,805,000 bales predicted a month ago.

It compares with 14,868,000 bales produced last year and with a ten-year (1938-37) average of 11,305,000 bales.

In an accompanying report, the census bureau said 1,247,443 bales of the 1949 crop had been ginned prior to Sept. 1. This compared with 1,444,355 bales ginned to the same date last year.

The indicated crop is considerably larger than expected market demands. If it is borne out by the harvest, the government probably would impose rigid controls on next year's crop in a move to prevent a price-depressing surplus.

Controls might include both acreage planting allotments and marketing quotas. The latter would have to be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum. No decision on a 1950 control program is expected, however, before early October.

If proposed quotas probably would be submitted at a referendum Dec. 7.

Supplementing this year's crop will be a reserve of more than 5,000,000 bales from previous crops. The department reported the indicated yield of cotton per acre at 276.9 pounds, compared with 313.1 pounds last year and 254 for the ten-year average.

The condition of the crop as of Sept. 1 was reported at 74 percent of normal compared with 82 percent a year ago and 71 percent for the ten year average.

The indicated area left for harvest was put at 25,907,000 acres, compared with 23,003,000 last year and 22,531,000 for the ten year average.

The percent abandonment, the acreage for harvest, condition of the crop on Sept. 1, the indicated yield per acre, and the production, respectively, by states included:

Missouri 2.5 percent abandonment; 536,000 acres for harvest; 86 percent of normal; 425 pounds per acre and production 475,000 bales; Arkansas 3.1; 2,384,000; 68; 322 and 1,600,000 Oklahoma 3.5; 1,138,000; 75 170 and 410.

Keck to Head Reserve Corps Truck Unit
The information has just been received here that a Heavy Tank Company of the Organized Reserve Corps, is to be located in Hope, was announced by Captain James E. Kelly, unit instructor for this area.

The unit, which is scheduled to be a part of the Army's 18 Division Striking Force will be fully trained and equipped so as to make it immediately available at a Mobilization Day Combat Company.

Captain Kelly explained that personnel are urgently needed for assignment to the unit, which will hold two hour night meetings up to the unit, which will be held on a Friday night. The unit will be paid a full day's pay, ranging from $2.50 to $7 per meeting, depending on the rank of the individual.

Individuals between the ages of 18 and 35 who are interested in assignments to the unit can obtain further information either by contacting the Commanding Officer, Captain John Keck Ord-Res, 1406 South Elm Street, telephone 335-W, or contact the Unit Instructor, ORC, room 403, Hempstead county court house, Hope, telephone 1358.

4-H Club to Show Corn at Livestock Show
Hempstead county 4-H club members will stage their sixth special 4-H club hybrid corn show at the Third District Livestock show at Fair park in Hope, Ark., September 19-24.

The purpose of this 4-H hybrid corn show is to aid in teaching 4-H club members the value of hybrid corn and to stress the importance of good production practices.

Fifty-eight 4-H club boys are expected to exhibit. Stops will be made in all towns of the territory. Plans now indicate one of the largest crowds will attend the Livestock Show starting Sept. 19 through 24.

Strauss, Famed Composer, Dies at Age of 85

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Sept. 8 — (AP) — Richard Strauss, one of the world's greatest temporary composers, died today. He was 85.

His genius ran the gamut of musical expression from simple songs and chamber music to symphonic poems, symphonies and operas. "Der Rosenkavalier" and his impressionistic opera "Salome" are among his most popular works.

He was a musical prodigy at the age of four and began composing when he was six. At 12 his Opus No. 1, a "Festmarsch" for orchestra was before the public.

Impressionist expressions in tone form which Strauss composed in middle life were the subject of critical debate. He lived to see many of his innovations become almost commonplace musical devices.

His tone poems, "Till Eulenspiegel," "Zond Quixote," and "Don Juan" are popular with symphonic audiences throughout the world. Strauss composed "Salome" in 1904 and produced the opera "Elektra" three years later. Both works were widely known in America.

"Tod und Verklärung" (death and transfiguration) a tone poem written in 1890 is regarded by many critics as one of his greatest works.

Many Convicts Released by Prison Board
Little Rock, Sept. 8 — (AP) — The Arkansas penitentiary board plans to supplement the institution's income by leasing convicts.

At a meeting yesterday it adopted a resolution authorizing contracts with state institutions and private individuals for use of convict labor at a rate of $4 a day per man. The contracts must be approved by the governor and attorney general.

Supt. Lee Henslee told the board that the penitentiary would have received $40,000 had it been paid yesterday for the use of convict labor in the state institutions from last Jan. 1 through Aug. 31.

Henslee recently was advised by Attorney General Ike Murry that he is not required to furnish convict labor to state institutions free, but could lease convicts to the state institutions under properly executed contracts.

The penitentiary board, which also serves as the state board of pardons and paroles, at the meeting yesterday granted paroles to 14 convicts and recommended eight furloughs and three commutations of sentence to the governor.

Convicts paroled (showing county of conviction, date, charge and sentence) included:

L. E. R. Brown, Washington, Aug. 4 1943, robbery, three years. Ross Hovle, Mississippi, Dec. 6, 1947, burglary and grand larceny, five years.

George Robert McCain, Mississippi, Nov. 22, 15, grand larceny, five years.

Robert Sullivan, Clark, Dec. 28, 1948, burglary and grand larceny, two years.

From Anderson, Phillips, May 9, 1946, second degree murder, nine years.

Frank Hampton, Jefferson, Aug. 16, 1945, assault to kill, seven years.

Ford Penny, Jefferson, Aug. 27, 1941, grand larceny, seven years.

LeRoy Reed, Greene, March 7, 1944, robbery, 15 years.

Contract Let

Contract for the job was awarded yesterday to the Arkansas Construction Co., El Dorado. The bid was $121,844.

Rubber Workers Accept Wage Decrease

Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 8 — (AP) — Members of Local 283, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO), voted last night to accept a decrease in pay averaging 11 cents an hour from the Norwalk Tire and Rubber company on a trial basis.

The union membership accepted the proposal, agreed on by its representatives at a negotiation meeting with the company yesterday, by a vote of 124 to 45.

The decrease will mean cuts in income ranging from two to 13 percent.

In effect, this returns the rubber workers pay to the level of two years ago when they were granted an 11 cents an hour increase by the company.

Officials of the firm, which laid off 35 employees in June, have promised that if business improves wages will be raised to last year's figure.

Emergency Polio Fund Drive Opens

New York Sept. 8 — (AP) — With the United States in the grip of one of the most severe polio epidemics in its history, an emergency fund drive opened today for funds to cope with an expected total of 40,000 cases.

This is nearly double the 23,453 reported so far this year.

The U. S. postoffice department is working with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the week-long emergency drive, with the goal set at $14,500,000.

Announcing the appeal over the Columbia Broadcasting System last night, the foundation President Basil O'Connor said the agency has just about run out of funds to care for victims of the disease.

He said all signs are that the epidemic is just about half over, although the public health service in Washington reported a downturn in cases for the second successive week.

With all states but Illinois reporting, the week ended Sept. 3 had 2,915 cases. Officials said that after the Illinois figure is in, the total still probably will be less than the 3,214 new cases reported for the week ended Aug. 31.

So far, the largest number of new cases reported was in the week ended Aug. 24, when 3,422 were stricken.

This is the first time the foundation has ever called for contributions in addition to those obtained in its annual "March of Dimes" campaign.

O'Connor said the foundation funds now are being spent at the rate of $100,000 a day to fight the epidemic, and at this rate, there is only enough money to last about 11 more days.

Arrangements have been made for the postoffice department to deliver contributions addressed only to "polio" in care of any local postoffice in the country.

The Moral to This Little Story Is Never Trust An Educated Insect
By HAL BOYLE
New York — Once upon a time there was a great scientist named Dr. Alfonso Cortez.

No mind like his had ever entered the world before.

The day he was born he asked the nurse if he could borrow the hospital's microscope. He wouldn't take his afternoon nap unless his mother sang him a lullaby from an algebra book.

By the time he was five he could recite the Encyclopedia Britannica from memory forward or back.

They have been taught not to sting, graduated from college at 7 — he could play hopscotch well.

At 10 he competed in a radio quiz show. They couldn't think up a question he couldn't answer. The network finally paid him $5,000,000 to quit — he was the only way to keep from going bankrupt. With that nest egg the young scientist bought himself his first pair of long pants and dedicated the rest of his life to squinting, and then —

"Ouch!"

"Ouch!"

"Ouch!"

The famous people slapping at their faces ran in a mass from the laboratory all except a stubborn general. He walked out brushing the mosquitoes from his cheek — and his medals.

Dr. Cortez looked sadly around his deserted laboratory.

"There must be some wholly good person in the world," he said. "All my mosquitoes can't be wrong."

Just then he felt something on his cheek.

"Ouch!" cried the scientist. "Moral: Never trust an educated insect."

Reds May Carry Quarrel With Tito to U. N.

London, Sept. 8 — (UP) — Russia indicated today it may carry the quarrel with Marshal Tito to the United Nations by demanding UN protection for Albania against alleged Yugoslav and Greek threats.

Radio Moscow broadcast an article in the authoritative publication New Times charging that Yugoslavia and Greece were in league to seize and partition Albania between them.

Both Greece and Yugoslavia are committing weekly "provocations" against Albania's northern and southern borders, Moscow charged. Since early August these attacks have been coordinated and "obscured," the Soviets asserted.

It is the direct duty of the United Nations to call to order the arrogant foes of the independence of small nations," Moscow said.

"Those who follow Hitler in openly calling in peacetime for attacks on their neighbors and for the seizure of their territories are hurling a challenge to all freedom-loving mankind."

Observers said the Moscow broadcast indicated the Russians may try to beat Yugoslavia to the draw on charges of a Soviet threat to peace by charging Marshal Tito with the same designs against Albania.

Possibility that both Russia and Yugoslavia anticipate a showdown before the United Nations when the general assembly opens in New York on Sept. 20 was seen in reports that both will send extremely strong delegations.

A Belgrade dispatch said the Yugoslav delegation will be the strongest ever sent to any international conference. It will leave Belgrade for New York next Friday.

A Moscow dispatch said Russia will send three delegations — Russia, Byelo-Russian and Ukrainian — with a total of 70 members. Included will be a Russian American interpreter, Oleg Troyanovsky, a graduate of Swarthmore college and son of the first Soviet ambassador to Washington.

Sea Was Calm When Girl Had Death Fall
Boston, Mass., Sept. 8 — (UP) — Ship's officers of the liner Excalibur could give no reason today for the fall in which a 19-year-old Dallas, Tex., debutante was killed and her escort critically injured.

Capt. Samuel N. Groves, the ship's master, said the accident occurred off the Azores at 4:30 a. m. Saturday in a "fairly calm" sea.

Miss Adrienne Atwell suffered fatal head injuries when she and Robert M. Willard, 21, also of Dallas, fell backward while climbing a stairway. Willard, a Southern Methodist university student, sustained a skull fracture.

The Excalibur, operated by American Export Lines, docked here last night after 17 hours ahead of schedule. Willard was removed from the ship in the outer harbor by a coast guard cutter and taken to a Boston hospital where he was reported in fair condition.

Miss Atwell, granddaughter of Federal Judge William H. Atwell, and Willard were "walking side by side up the ladder from the promenade deck to the boat deck, a distance of nine feet," Capt. Groves said.

"The girls' backyards together when they lost their balance," he said. "The sea was fairly calm. Several people observed the accident and the ship's doctor immediately went to the scene."

Miss Atwell, unconscious when picked up, and Willard were treated by Dr. S. Robert Small of Los Angeles, the ship's physician, and two other doctors who were aboard as passengers.

Shortly after the mishap, the liner rendezvoused with the U. S. Army Transport Comfort about 700 miles east of Nova Scotia and an army surgeon and nurse brought oxygen and glucose aboard the Excalibur.

The doctors diagnosed Miss Atwell's injuries as inoperable. She died Tuesday and the liner's captain ordered extra speed to bring the ship into port quicker so Willard could be hospitalized.

Two Arrested Following Auto Wreck
Two Hope men were arrested last night following an accident 6 miles south on Highway 29, when the car in which they were riding struck another.

State Policemen Ward and Murphy arrested John Bartlett and Jimmy Fields. Bartlett, who was driving the car was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while under the influence of alcohol. Fields, riding with Bartlett, was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

State Police said the second car was driven by Kathleen Walker. Fields suffered a severe cut on the head. Nobody else was hurt.

Mo-Pac to Halt All Trains After Midnight

Believe Unruh Insane From News Accounts
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Sept. 8 — (AP) — Howard Unruh, the 27-year-old veteran who slaughtered 13 people with his pistol in Camden, N. J., has been sent to the state insane hospital for two weeks, at least.

Psychiatrists who have been examining him haven't reported yet whether they think he has a sane mind or what he was doing when he killed the 13 people.

If he's found sane, Jersey officials say, he'll be tried for murder.

But two top Washington psychiatrists, with nothing more to go on than the newspaper accounts they've read, flatly say Unruh is insane, they say they haven't been able to question him and dig back into the main points in the newspaper stories.

1. His excessive interest in the Bible. He was reported to have walked along the streets, reading it.

2. His own statement that he was sore at some of the people he killed because he felt they were against him.

The psychiatrists give this explanation: Unruh is paranoid. Which means he has a serious mental illness. He had delusions of being persecuted. Example: He thought his neighbors were against him.

But how do such delusions start? The Washington psychiatrists couldn't say what started them. They said it could be anything. It could be a question him and dig back into the main points of his life.

Such delusions, though, may arise from several causes. For example:

1. A deep sense of guilt. Instead of facing a reality and accepting it in his own mind, blame for some wrong thing he did — or something he felt he was doing — a man in time tries to shift the blame to someone else.

2. A deep sense of inferiority. In this case he begins to suspect that everything that happens to him or because of him. If it rains, his fault. If he has an accident, his fault. If the sun is hot, it's specially hot just to make him uncomfortable.

A gross word with a neighbor — the idea of persecution begins to build up and the paranoid man dies it out of all reality in his own mind as something specially meant to hurt him.

Not always, but sometimes, a paranoid like that winds up trying to kill people although usually his neighbors are directed against only one person or a small group. It seldom takes on the mass scale of Unruh's 13 killings.

One point that puzzled the psychiatrists here, though, was the fact that Unruh not only shot down the neighbors he disliked but also drew strangers on the street children and people in passing autos. New Jersey officials said they didn't ask Unruh about that.

But both psychiatrists say one of the tragedies in Unruh's case was this: His mental illness should have been spotted before he ever took loose with his gun.

Why? Because they say the evidence of his mental illness already was clear. His insanity they say didn't suddenly come on him in a day or a week but had been building up.

(In New Jersey Unruh was quoted as saying he had been building up a grudge against his neighbors for two years since he returned from the army.)

How could such insanity have been recognized? This was the explanation for that:

When a person goes to excess in anything — whether it's eating, drinking or even something like reading the Bible — he's open to question about his mental condition.

But when in Unruh this excess was coupled with statements like "I'm sure that he had a grudge against his neighbors and that he thought they were against him — the signs of his illness were pretty clear.

If someone had been able to recognize the signs and get Unruh to a doctor he shooting probably never would have happened.

But the two psychiatrists in agreement on everything said here so far disagree on this: Can Unruh be cured? One says "maybe." The other says "maybe." If Unruh is given proper treatment. But this psychiatrist added:

"Even if he were completely cured, how could anyone ever be sure?"

So if Unruh is found officially insane and thus escapes trial he probably faces a lifetime in a mental hospital.

SOLD TOO MUCH
Grantham, Eng. Sept. 8 — (AP) — The auctioneer sacrificed a kitchen table, last item of his sale, for five shillings ($1).

The buyer, a Nottingham second-hand dealer, loaded it into his truck and carted it away. In his shop, he found 290 pounds ($1,100) in a drawer.

The auctioneer had sold the table in which his clerks kept the proceeds of the sale.

2 Other Strikes Will Idle Some 130,000
St. Louis, Sept. 8 — (AP) — All trains on the Missouri Pacific railroad are scheduled to halt after midnight tonight.

Although a strike, called by four operating brotherhoods, isn't effective until 2 p. m. (Central Standard Time) tomorrow, the railroad said no trains will leave terminals after tonight's deadline. Trains already moving will complete their runs.

A freight embargo took effect at midnight Tuesday.

Company officials said the service was being stopped to avoid a last-minute glut of freight, express and passengers at the strike deadline.

Leaders of three of four of the brotherhoods met at Cleveland yesterday and ended all hopes of a settlement with the announcement that strike notices were being prepared for the 5,000 operating employees affected.

George Hooper, chief clerk of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said:

"We have gone through two sessions of negotiation, and one emergency fact-finding panel session. After three years you lose patience. There's nothing else to do but strike."

J. P. Neff, chief executive officer for the railroad, termed the strike unjustified. He said the railroad had offered to arbitrate the issues of the dispute — some 300 individual grievances — but that the union refused.

An estimated 15,000 to 25,000 other employees of the railroad will be laid off because of the strike. Hundreds of towns and thousands of industries, depending on the railroad, are expected to be affected in Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and Kansas.

The individual grievances are said to involve $3,000,000.

Besides the locomotive engineers' brotherhood, other unions involved are the order of railway conductors and the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers and railroad trainmen.

A strike was voted by the unions last December but conferences with the railroad began after that. The strike later was scheduled in July but President Truman called for an emergency fact-finding board. The unions turned down the board's recommendations.

Three of the nation's railroads were threatened with strikes today, making possible the idling of more than 150,000 rail and steel workers.

Dictionary Says Statism Not So Bad

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 8. — (AP) — They're over a barrel and all confused. I mean President Truman, General Eisenhower, former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, and Senators Bridges, Pepper and Caperhart. They've been throwing around the word "statism" like it was a bad word that we don't want any part of. But I looked it up in the dictionary and there "statism" sounds like a nice word about something that's always been here. Byrnes, who once was one of the most powerful Democrats close to Mr. Truman, made a speech June 18. He warned that "We are going down the road to statism." And he called for a cut in federal power and spending. This tickled the Republicans. They took it as an attack on Mr. Truman's "fair deal" program. They beat the Democrats on the head with it. That's what Senator Bridges, a New Hampshire Republican, in a speech about the Byrnes speech, is quite a statement. "This man has taken off the blinders. He sees the trend in this country," Senator Caperhart suggested that when Byrnes mentioned "statism" he might have been warning against sliding into "socialism or communism." But Senator Pepper, peppy Florida Democrat, blasted Byrnes for giving the Republic ammunition. Pepper said he and his fellow Democrats deny their program "involves the full odious trend which someone might call statism."

This made me pretty gloomy, particularly since "statism" didn't sound good and I hadn't looked it up.

Then yesterday in St. Louis General Eisenhower, who had been mentioned for the presidency before the last election but excused himself, teed off on "statism" in a Labor day speech. He said:

"The straight path to America's future lies down the middle of the road between the unfettered power of concentrated wealth on one flank, and the unbridled power of statism on the other."

Almost at the same time Mr. Truman was making a Labor day speech in Pittsburgh. Defending his "fair deal" program, he said many of his proposals already had progressed in the face of "such trumped-up slogans as 'statism' and 'collectivism'."

(Former Republican) President Herbert Hoover used the word "collectivism" in a speech on his 75th birthday last month.

(Unlike Byrnes who said "we are going down the road to statism," Hoover said we are "on the last mile to collectivism.")

Words like "statism" and "collectivism," Mr. Truman said, were thought up by a lot of "paid agitators, promoters and publicity experts who make a fat living frightening the people in the higher income groups."

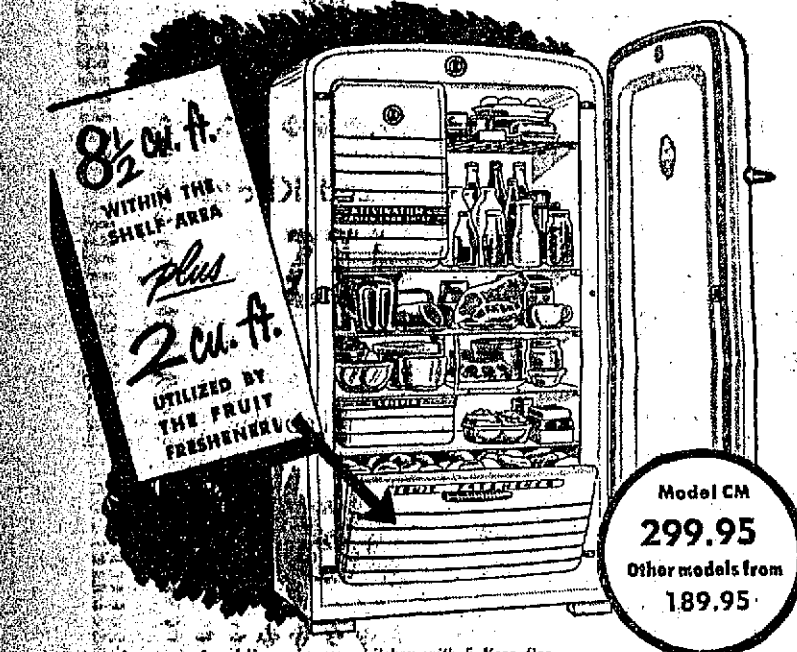

All of them — Mr. Truman, General Eisenhower, Byrnes, and Senators Bridges, Pepper and Caperhart — seem to dislike "statism."

That's when I ran for the dictionary. The latest unabridged Webster's dictionary. It said "statism" means:

"Belief in a government, as in a republic, in contrast with belief in communism or a Soviet government."

Now you can see why I'm confused. All these big men talking against statism and, from the dictionary, it seems that "statism" is a belief in the republican form of

Steps to the Moon

The Story: Gaynel Teare has accepted Fritz Freymann's proposal of marriage, even though she knows many problems must be settled. First she tells Barry Bainbridge, a wealthy young man, who is in love with her. Gaynel had been asked by Fritz to leave a large dose of the smelling salts. "Time did you say darling? You mean you're not going to marry anyone right away? All of those terrible things don't have to happen at once! You're not going to leave your poor mother and Denny and Pat right away then darling?"

"Certainly not," Gaynel reassured him. "You talk dearest, as though we were going to die when instead I'm going to marry the man I love. And oh Mother I do love Fritz so much!"

"Fritz!" her mother repeated. She let her salts fall to the floor. "You don't mean you can't mean that! That strange young man the one whose name I never can remember! A nobody without a penny. Oh my dear!"

Gaynel stood up; her face was white. She looked very proud. "I couldn't mean anyone else Mother. Fritz isn't a nobody or a stranger. He's gotten a very good job. Though all that matters is that I love him and he loves me."

"My precious daughter," Fritz sighed. She recognized that set look on her daughter's mouth. "To think you'd do this — if you knew the hopes I've had for you. But as you say, there'll be plenty of time for all that. I'll be a flame of hope lighted in her pretty eyes. So that now she could even give Gaynel a smile."

"Not going to... But, darling, who else could you marry? Surely he's asked you. But of course he has. Of course you're going to marry Barry, darling. You know it means so much to me."

"Whom I marry means something to me, too," Gaynel said. "It's the one thing I must decide myself. I am fond of Barry. But not in love with him. He asked me to marry him. But I happen to love someone else."

"Someone else?" Emily looked bewildered. "But how could you love someone else, dear, when Barry's so sweet, so entirely suitable, when he could do so much for you — for all of us?"

"I'm sure Father would want me to marry the man of my choice," Emily ignored Gaynel's remark. "You must talk this over with your brother."

"Oh, I'll talk it over with him," Gaynel readily could promise that. "Denny will have to take on his share of responsibility contribute part of his earnings."

"Denny... contribute!" Such a possibility practically robbed Denny's mother of speech. "He can give up his expensive habits."

Emily went on: "It seems to me darling you ought to think about us — your family. Your mother and brother and dear little Pat. Think of all Barry did for her... the sweet child's very life besides all the money he must have spent."

Pat appeared at the door. She had heard her name mentioned. "Come in dear," Emily held out a hand. "This concerns us all."

"Please mother!"

"Pat is grown-up enough. She should know Gaynel that you aren't going to marry Barry."

"You aren't?" Pat stared at her sister out of wide eyes. Now her face broke into a radiant smile. "Gee I'm glad."

"Glad!" from Emily.

"You're the only one" Gaynel said.

"Because" Pat stated solemnly "then I can marry him as soon as I'm old enough."

Gaynel laughed. She might have known she could depend upon her little sister. "So you can" she said. "But honey suppose you run along now."

"I suppose" Emily said. "I'll have to give up dear Clipper."

Easy to Play New Card Game Canasta

By William E. McKenney

This article gives a few pointers on Canasta. Canasta is like an obstacle race. To reach the finish line, you must get past certain fixed hurdles on the course; to win you must make better time than your competitors. You are likely to fall by the wayside if you fail to keep watch on both the obstacles and the competitors.

The fixed hurdles are:

- (a) Making the initial meld;
- (b) Getting the pack;
- (c) Completing one or more Canastas;
- (d) Getting rid of the last card sometimes — with an assist from Dame Fortune — you can hurdle two or three of these barriers in one jump. You may get the pack in making your initial meld; you may go out with a concealed hand, encompassing (a), (b), (c), and (d) at once.

Naturally, your chances of winning the race, or making a big profit, are greatly increased by any such telescoping of the course. But most of the time, you have to take the hurdles one by one. You have to be prepared to deal separately with the special difficulties thrown up around each by the rules of the game.

At the same time, you want to outdistance another partnership, or other players. To some extent, you can enhance the difficulties for them. It is as though — to keep the analogy — you were allowed to push boulders in their path. But in so doing you slow yourself up too, and on net you may turn out to be the loser.

Getting the pack. All experience goes to show that the paramount object is to Get the Pack. This statement may sound strange. Legally, to go out you have to make an initial meld, complete at least one Canasta, and get rid of your last card — the only hurdle you can skip is getting the pack. Yet this is the one you most want to conquer.

The reason is not far to seek. If you never get the pack, your chances of making Canastas and going out are slight, and the chance that your opponents will roll up a huge score against you is extreme.

Tomorrow: Pointers on "getting the pack."

Masons Give Building to Sanatorium

Bonneville, Sept. 8. — (AP) — A second building given to the state tuberculosis sanatorium by the Masonic lodge of Arkansas is to be dedicated here tomorrow.

C. Alton Clift, El Dorado, grand master of the grand lodge will preside.

The building, costing $125,000, is to be used as a school and recreation building for child patients at the institution.

The first building given to the sanatorium by the Masons was

One of Dakota Quadruplets Becomes Mother

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 8. — (AP) —

Jean, one of the Schenck quadruplets of South Dakota, is married and the mother of an 18-day old daughter, Deborah.

Until it was confirmed last night by a relative, Jean's marriage to Harold Schenck, 21, Frederick, S. D., farm youth, was a secret. Presently separated from her mate, Mrs. Schenck is living at the home of her father, Fred A. Schenck, in northern Brown county.

Jean's brothers, Jay and James, are also still on the farm but planning to attend business school after fall work is over. Jean, the fourth quad, is attending a Minneapolis Beauty school on a scholarship she received on her 18th birthday, last Jan. 13.

CAA to Discuss Air Races Over Populated Areas

Washington, Sept. 8. — (UP) —

The federal government today got behind a move either to eliminate air races of the type that cost the life of Bill Odom or to move them to non-populated areas.

Civil Aeronautics administrator Delcos W. Rontzel said he plans to call a meeting of interested parties to discuss "the future of the national air races."

"We will propose that high-speed, closed-course races of the type in which Odom crashed be eliminated unless a course more distant from population areas can be found," he told the United Press.

Odom's souped-up Mustang fighter plane went out of control in the $40,000 Thompson trophy race at Cleveland Monday and crashed into a suburban home. A 24-year-old mother and her 13-month-old son died with Odom in the crash and subsequent fire.

With the exception of certain tropical honey wasps, all wasps feed on animal food—usually other insects.

DOROTHY DIX
Clandestine Affair

Dear Miss Dix: I am a divorcee, aged 22, in love with a married man. He lives with his wife and three children. My parents are trying to prevent a scandal. I am giving up my family to go with the man.
Would it be better for me to marry a despised rich man? Would any one benefit by my committing suicide? Is there any way to make the wife release the husband? Would I make the married man miserable by making him choose between the children and myself?
PERPLEXED DIVORCEE
Answer: Don't you think that the answer to all these questions is for you to fade out of the picture and leave the married man to fulfill his obligations toward his wife and children?
This may require self-sacrifice and you may suffer for a time, but in the end I think you will find greater happiness than in breaking up a home, orphaning little children and bringing shame upon your mother and father.
In the first place, the man does not love you well enough to give up everything for you.
Lots of married men like to philander with young girls. It flatters their vanity to win young girls away from the boys. They like to take girls out and have a good time, and it is part of their technique to tell the girls how unhappy married they are and that their wives don't understand them and that there has long ceased to be any love between them. This naturally makes the girls feel that these poor, misunderstood husbands, tied down to middle-aged wives, would simply jump at the chance to break their matrimonial bonds and marry them.
The fact is, my dear, that making love to a girl and getting a divorce and marrying her are two entirely different propositions. When a man goes on living with his wife, it is proof that he wants to no more what he tells you. You see, the queer thing about a man is that he can be unfaithful to his wife and still love and respect her above all other women, rating her a thousand per cent above the girl who accepts his love-making knowing he is married.
Also, many a philandering man is devoted to his children and does not want to be parted from them. Another reason why a man who carries on clandestine affairs doesn't want a divorce is that it hurts his business standing. Very often the wife has powerful family backing or is a popular and admired woman. The public invariably sides with the forsaken wife and turns thumbs down on the woman who broke up the home.
A married man who is very much in love with a girl to be willing to divorce his wife and marry her, but unless he is willing she may be very sure that he cares nothing for her and that he was just amusing himself and in the end will be unfaithful to her, as he was to his wife. That is why, in affairs between married men and girls, the girl loses out.
Don't talk foolishness about committing suicide nor about marrying a despised rich man. The thing for you to do is to forget the married man, absorb yourself in your work and wait for a cleaner love to come along.
DOROTHY DIX
Dear Miss Dix: Why is it that my husband is so quiet at home, but if we go anywhere or any one comes into our house he seems to do all the talking and joking? He is the same about children. Our boy mustn't make any noise and his father is always finding fault with him, yet he plays and jokes with other children.
Answer: Nobody can explain this peculiarity of husbands. B. F. They are just that way.
Many a man who is the life of the party when he goes abroad is a wet blanket at home. Many a man who sets the table in a roar when he is dining out never opens his mouth at his own table except to put food in it. Many a man who tells and coaches other people's children regards his own as brats.
Perhaps he considers his wit too sniffling for home consumption. Perhaps he is too lazy to make an effort to be entertaining and agreeable to a mere wife. Perhaps it is vanity that makes him want to show off before company. Perhaps new people stimulate him and he can put more pep into telling a story to some one who has never heard it before than he can in repeating it to one who has heard it a dozen times.
Sometimes men are quiet at home because experience has taught them that they can't start any subject without provoking an argument with their wives.
Sometimes they don't talk because their wives never read or think and have no interest outside their homes and can only discuss the baby's new tooth and the price of butcher's meat. Sometimes because their wives never listen to anything they say.
And sometimes the man doesn't talk at home because he has had to talk all day to customers or clients and is just talked out.

Teen Agers Blamed for Violence
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 — (AP) — The Westchester county district attorney today blamed teen-agers for most of the violence that followed the Paul Robeson concert near Peekskill Sunday.
At the same time the prosecutor, George M. Faneli, in a preliminary report to Governor Dewey, inferentially denied the convention of Negro, baritone Robeson that state and Westchester county police had attacked, concert-goers.
Faneli complimented all the law enforcement officials assigned to the concert area. He said "they accomplished an insuperable job of preventing fatalities."
Unofficial reports had placed the number of injured at more than 130.

Miss Bailey Entertains Wesleyan Guild
The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church met on Monday evening in the home of Miss Frances Bailey with Miss Marguerite Avery co-hostess.

Mrs. Gist, president, presided over the meeting. It was voted to entertain the district meeting the last of October or the first of November.
A discussion on "Undirected Giving" was given by Mrs. E. D. Galloway.

Two tracts, "The Lord is my Shepherd" and "Boula Land" by Margaret Hunter Scott, Dimple Burks and Julie Smith were enjoyed.

Mrs. Vuel Chamberlain read scripture and presented in a very interesting way the program on "Faith". The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

Refreshments were served by Miss Bailey and Miss Avery to members and visitors Mrs. W. C. Wooley and Mrs. Galloway.

Circle of Presbyterian Church Meets in Logan Home
The circle of the women of the Presbyterian church U. S. met on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. E. Logan with Mrs. Max Bryant co-hostess.

Mrs. S. O. Logan, president, presided. Silent prayers were offered by request from the East Brazil Mission that the church at home join with the church in Brazil in prayers for ministry of healing, preaching and teaching.

The missionary society of the U. S. A. church has invited the circle to be their guests for luncheon on October 24 for a joint review of the home mission study book "Grass Roots."

Mrs. D. L. McRae, Jr., secretary of S & P, home missions reported 165 lbs. of linen, dishes and furniture had been sent to C. V. A. Group conference will convene September 27 in the Prescott church. Mrs. Tom Bonis and Mrs. D. L. McRae, Jr. were appointed registration committee.

Mrs. T. E. Logan gave an interesting account of the Women's conference at Montreat, N. C. that she attended the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Steele Moore of Dallas.

During the social hour the members were invited into the dining room where the serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of summer flowers. Mrs. Bryant presided at the punch bowl and the cake was served by Mrs. Moore.

Prescott City Council Meets
The City council of the City of Prescott met in regular session on Monday night Sept. 5 at 7:30 o'clock with all members being present and attorney D. L. McRae.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read and they were approved as read.

The matter of garbage disposal for the city was discussed but tabled until next meeting night so members of council could have opportunity to study this question.

By a vote of 5 to 3 the council voted to require the local draft board to pay for rent for office space in city hall or secure another place.

The mayor and recorder were given authority to transfer the sum of $5000 from the general fund to water and light fund.

Commissioner Williams read the bills for the month of August 1949 which on roll call was approved and ordered paid.

Mr. J. T. McRae and Mr. Allen representing the prudential life insurance Co. of Dallas were present and spoke to the council regarding their group insurance plan. They were asked by the city council to submit a detailed report as to the cost to the city and employee and submit to next meeting of the council.

Alabama Klan Protests Negro Singer

Birmingham Ala. Sept. 8.—(UP)—Some 15 robed but unmasked Ku Klux Klansmen burned a 20-foot cross here last night with two effigies strung from its arms one tagged "Welcome Paul Robeson." E. E. Campbell head of the Robeson Klan of Birmingham, said the demonstration was one of a series of Alabama, Georgia and Florida in protest against the Negro singer.

The other dummy was marked only by a question mark. Some of the Klansmen referred to the effigy as "Albert" indicating they might have meant it for State Atty. Gen. Albert A. Carmichael who helped jail Alabama Klan boss William Hugh Morris.

The cross was burned on a hill-top in north Birmingham. It stopped traffic a few minutes on U. S. highway 31 but otherwise attracted little attention.

War Service Not to Blame Doctors Say

By PAUL F. ELLIS

New York, Sept. 7 (UP)—Why would a man suddenly go berserk and kill 13 persons?

The question was put today to four psychiatrists, all well-known in their profession.

There could be a dozen reasons, but the scientists were agreed that the war service of the Camden veteran who shot and killed two children, five men and five women had nothing to do with it.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

One expert, recently returned from Germany where he was a witness in the trial of a GI, said that the Camden veteran may have an illusion that he could save the world and that his failure caused him to crack up.

The veteran, Howard Unruh, believed that his neighbors were talking about him and definitely had a persecution complex, another expert pointed out.

"If a man has homicidal tendencies, such belief of persecution can break out those tendencies in violent form," he said.

He said that Unruh, apparently a religious fanatic, probably had an illusion that he could save the world.

"Balked in his efforts," the expert said, "the man's homicidal tendencies broke loose."

He and the other psychiatrists said teaching a man to shoot an enemy in war does not teach that man homicidal tendencies in civilian life. They agreed that the Camden vet was mentally ill and regardless of his service record, would have gone berserk if some other provocation came along.

Mad Gunman Was Bible Reading Soldier

Portland, Ore., Sept. 7 (AP)—Howard Unruh, the berserk gunman of Camden, was a cool, quiet, Bible-reading soldier with a passion for guns, his war-time sergeant recalled here today.

Norman E. Koehn of Portland pointed to a picture of Unruh, who killed 13 persons in Camden, N. J., yesterday, in a booklet tell-

Council Wants Negro to Head Boys School

Little Rock, Sept. 7 (UP)—A recommendation for a well-qualified colored person to head the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial school was in the hands of Gov. Sid McMath today.

It came from the Arkansas Council on Children and Youth which recently completed the survey of the school requested by McMath.

The report said that the recommendation for a colored superintendent "is in no way a condemnation of the administration of the present superintendent." The report added that the proposal follows the plan adopted at the new colored girls training school by a mixed board appointed by the governor.

The council stated in its report that it found no evidence of "cruel or unusual punishment" at the school.

In other recommendations the council suggested that the average of the farm operated by the teenage prisoners be cut by sale or rental and used as part of a rehabilitation and training program for the inmates.

The report criticized "past administrations" for "failing to secure the success of the school by the smallness of the budget required rather than by the number of prospective good citizens returned to society."

Shirley May, May Try It Again Sometime

Dover, Eng., Sept. 7 (AP)—Shirley May, France's red-eyed, string-haired and tired, said today she will have another try at swimming the English Channel.

"It beat me yesterday, but I am sure I can get across next time," said the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., school girl.

She does not know when "next time" will be, but it may be in a year or two.

Shirley May was pulled out of the water yesterday afternoon after she had tried courageously for 10 1/2 hours to swim from France to England.

She was hauled out at a point estimated to be six miles from her goal, a very cold, but determined girl.

"I am very disappointed," Shirley May said after a warm bath and shampoo to take the grease out of her hair. "It was the first five hours of the swim that beat me."

"Those awful, chopping waves washed the grease from my shoulders and after that, of course, I got cold quickly."

"Wonder what could have happened if I had had a good day, anyway, I am sure I can do it."

The girl's immediate concern is to get home as promptly as possible. The school term at Somerset started yesterday.

King William II of Britain an unjust and grasping ruler invoked the wrath of the church by selling church offices or kept term un-hg church offices or keeping them unoccupied so could keep the revenue for himself.

ing the history of the 34th armored field artillery battalion.

"Howard was a quiet kid," Koehn his section chief in Battery C, said. "He never associated much with other fellows, but he was intelligent, a pretty smart kid. I don't think anybody gave him much credit for that. He was cool, too. Never excitable."

Unruh wrote long letters—page after page—to his mother while overseas in Italy and France, Koehn said, and spent hours reading the Bible.

But his hobby was guns. "Guns and bayonets. I've probably seen that luger he used, because he had dozens of guns." His marksman-ship was deadly, Koehn added, telling of an experience which he considered a narrow escape from Unruh's rifle. He said he had spotted a wild boar while seated in a mortar crater in Austria one moonlight night, fired, then took after it. Unruh, on sentry duty, challenged him.

"I gave the countersign right back, quick," said Koehn. "He would have dropped me in any trucks if I hadn't. Nothing wrong with that though—that's just good soldiering."

That makes seventeen outfits. Some are extinct. Communist fronts merge, fade and sometimes reappear under new titles with old names carried over.

This matter is of court record and may be quoted at meetings and Draper and Adler can't do a thing about it. Citizens approaching a night club or hotel floor show have a right to bear in mind the direct, robust answer of Hester McCullough.

This was such a harsh deal that a few pro-American volunteers took up the cause. Contributions have come from strangers clear across the country, most of them of $5, 2 and a dollar. She reports the total of gifts for her defense to date as $5,464.00. It was estimated that $5,000 would be needed to prove the charges. Expenses paid to date came to $4,800.

I regret that I encouraged many citizens to write to the clerk of the Federal court for copies of Mrs. McCullough's legal answers. I underestimated the cost, which is 16 cents per copy. Possibly mimeographed copies will be made available later, free.

Communists maintain their right to be communists and advocate communism and these rights are recognized by law. Yet, Draper and Adler say they were exposed to hatred and financial injury by a mere statement that they exercised freedom of political belief and association, and the phantom claim of damage lies in the fact that when a loyal American was drafted for the war no communist or pro-German bundist could take his civilian job. That law never was enforced and it is a purely theoretical danger now that there is no draft. Not one plaintiff in all the suits which have muzzled loyal Americans ever was barred from a job for that reason, but thousands of propagandists have enjoyed immunity from exposure as pro-Soviet work openly waged as "liberal" and "progressive" activity.

New York, Sept. 6 — Patriotic Americans can thank Paul Draper, the precious elf with twittering toes, and Larry Adler, who plays harmonica, for waging their $200,000 suit against Mrs. John T. McCullough, of Greenwich, Conn.

This is a celebrated case. They sued because she balked at the idea that any of her money should be paid them for "entertaining" members of the Greenwich Community Councils last winter. She said they were "pro-communists." She did not realize that, by a thin, reptilian line of legalistic reasoning introduced into some courts, protection was given to communists and their friends, and she was liable to ruinous punishment for expressing patriotic sentiments. But she was terrified to find herself a lone defendant with no patriotic society to turn to for legal or financial help. Draper and Adler immediately attached the McCulloughs' home on Personage Rd., Greenwich—where you may send your contribution, if any, for this patriotic cause—and attached their modest bank account, too. It is not necessary to get judgment first, in Connecticut. Communists and fellow-travelers can absolutely throttle the Americans. A patriot who opens his mouth in meeting runs the risk of ruin.

He must stand his own costs, but the communists have two bar associations and abundant money for mercenary counsel of innocent hue.

Now, MacDonald DeWitt, a great fighting lawyer, has abbeed the noses of Draper and Adler in their own record. By their own dumb mistake, they made it possible for all papers and all loyal citizens to publish openly the charges for which they were able to beat Mrs. McCullough into a corner.

Yes, she answered through DeWitt, she did make charges against this mincing twirp with his hands-on-hips and toss-of-the-head defiance and Adler with his dreary wheezing on the jailorgan.

Damn right, she said. It. And, "it is the fact," Mr. DeWitt allowed, that Draper and Adler are "pro-communist in sympathy and exponents of a line of thinking" opposed to the principles of the United States government.

"The names of some of the subversive and communist front organizations so openly supported by these plaintiffs, listed as subversive and communist by United States attorneys general, and other public authorities are given as follows:

Joint anti-fascist refugee committee. National Council of American-Soviet Friendship. American Fight for Democracy. The Abraham Lincoln School. Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Progressive Citizens of America. Theatre Artists' committee. Artists' Front to Win the War. Committee for the First Amendment. I. O. U. World Democratic committee. The Writers' congress. Holly wood branch, Independent Citizens committee of the Arts, etc. American League for Peace and Democracy. Reichstag. Third Anniversary committee. Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy. People's Songs, Inc. Voice of Freedom committee.

That makes seventeen outfits. Some are extinct. Communist fronts merge, fade and sometimes reappear under new titles with old names carried over.

This matter is of court record and may be quoted at meetings and Draper and Adler can't do a thing about it. Citizens approaching a night club or hotel floor show have a right to bear in mind the direct, robust answer of Hester McCullough.

Steel Factfinders to Report to Truman Saturday

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—The White House said today that tentative plans call for the steel fact-finding board to report to President Truman Saturday morning.

That day is the deadline for the presidential panel to turn over its recommendations for settling a wage dispute that threatens a strike in the steel industry.

The CIO Steel workers' union is demanding a 30 cents-an-hour "package" increase. It has set Sept. 14 for a strike unless a settlement is reached before then.

The White House said the board members will visit President Truman Friday afternoon, according to present plans, and make their report Saturday morning.

It was said the report probably will be made public for Sunday morning news.

'Ike' May Be 1952 GOP Nominee

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is talking so much like a Republican that some Washington office holders are beginning to think he may have his eye on the 1952 GOP presidential nomination.

Despite Eisenhower's recent assertion he hasn't the slightest interest in such a nomination, Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) told a reporter he won't be surprised if the general's name is put before the next party nominating convention.

Agreeing, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he thinks Eisenhower would provide tough opposition to anyone the Democrats nominate.

Along with many others in congress, Sparkman said he is beginning to believe that President Truman will be a candidate for another term.

The President hasn't said anything publicly about his plans. Lawmakers said that in private conversations he has left the door open to the possibility that he might run again, particularly if congress doesn't enact his social welfare program before the next presidential election.

Eisenhower's Labor Day speech to the American Bar association in St. Louis is regarded widely here as tallying closely with the line of middle of the road Republicans who oppose what they call a welfare state but who don't want to go back to the days of Mark Hanna.

Politicians noted particularly the general's assertion that the future of America "lies down the middle of the road between concentrated wealth on one flank and the unbridled power of statism on the other."

Along with his previous opposition to federal aid to education—which he said would put the government into that field—this statement has put Eisenhower on the side of the Republicans who have been criticizing what they call Mr. Truman's swing toward big government.

Cotton Picking Well Underway in Arkansas

Little Rock, Sept. 7 (AP)—Cotton picking is getting well underway in Arkansas and soon will be in full swing, the crop reporting service said today.

"With Mexican and other transient pickers moving into the delta countries, no serious labor shortage is now in view," the service's weekly report added.

"Weevil continue to damage the top crop in many sections, and scattered boll worm damage is reported."

The report said that harvest of early varieties of rice is in progress and many driers are in operation. Good yields were reported.

The state's farmers worked under favorable weather conditions last week, the bulletin said. Average temperature for the week ending yesterday was 75 degrees. Temperatures varied from 70 degrees at Gilbert to 78 degrees in El Dorado, Hot Springs, Nashville, Ozark and Texarkana. Arkansas' soybean, early corn and hay crops look good at this stage, the report said.

Reporters Cramp Wooing of Barkley

St. Louis, Sept. 7 (UP)—Vice-President Alben W. Barkley made it clear today that he wants news-men to stop cramping his style while he woos Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, attractive St. Louis widow who is 35 years his junior.

The "romantically-minded" 72-year-old "veep" had three reporters and five photographers given a polite but firm bum's rush from the swank starlight roof of the Chase hotel where he took Mrs. Hadley, who is 37, dancing last night.

"This is my private life, and I don't want you to interfere with it," Barkley told one photographer. At one point the newsmen engaged in an argument with 12 waiters who laid hands on some of them while threatening to eject them bodily from the nightclub. The scene stole attention from the floor show.

Barkley, who has planned the widow since Sunday, planned to leave this afternoon for Springfield, Ill., where he will unveil a bust of Benjamin Franklin tomorrow. It was understood that Mrs. Hadley would not accompany him.

Last night was the couple's first 70 degrees at Gilbert to 78 degrees in El Dorado, Hot Springs, Nashville, Ozark and Texarkana. Arkansas' soybean, early corn and hay crops look good at this stage, the report said.

visit here. Barkley himself made the arrangements to spend the evening with a group of friends at the night spot.

The vice-president was duded up in a white dinner coat, black tie and striped trousers. Mrs. Hadley wore a flowered marine green dinner dress, a black Juliet cap and a tea rose in her hair.

The couple slipped up to the roof by a rear elevator. Barkley had asked the orchestra to play certain numbers upon their entrance. But he was thwarted because they entered while the floor show was on.

The songs Barkley requested were "My Old Kentucky Home," a reference to the produce home-stand he will take Mrs. Hadley to when and if they marry, and "Some Enchanted Evening," the number that has become "their song" since their romance began. He has requested the song several times on their recent dates. He also wanted the band to play "Wagon Wheels."

Typhoon Leaves After Lashing Hong Kong

Hong Kong, Sept. 8 — (UP) — A typhoon smashed this British crown colony today and the city started digging itself out of the debris as the storm roared off to the south.

Fifteen thousand British troops who left their tents and moved into barracks, mess halls and cook-houses started setting up their tent cities again.

Meanwhile, authorities announced that 14 Chinese crewmen still were missing in the explosion and sinking of the 1,931-ton British ship Chaksang in Hong Kong harbor. Fifty-two persons, including European officers and crewmen, were rescued.

The typhoon also drove the British steamer Inchmullin aground. All British navy ships, except the Amethyst of Yangtze river fame, put to sea before the storm struck. The little Amethyst, which ran a gauntlet of communist guns to escape from the Yangtze, rode out the typhoon lashed to a buoy.

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Smoky Joe Page is the man of the hour for the embattled New York Yankees.

Hero in 1947 but a failure in 1948 the strong-armed fireman from the bullpen is a leading candidate for the most valuable player in the American League.

Page never was better than he was last night as he struck out four of the five men he faced in the Yankees' important 5-2 victory over Boston.

Called to the rescue of Allie Reynolds after Bobby Doerr tripped with the potential tying run in the eighth Page blazed his fast ball past the Red Sox in a sizzling performance.

Boston took an early lead on Reynolds' wildness but the Yankees struck back to go ahead 3-2 on Bill Johnson's second triple and a costly error by Vern Stephens before Page appeared on the scene.

After Doerr tripped to put the tying run on third Manager Casey Stengel waved in Page. Al Zarilla he relied on one pitch. Then he fanned Billy Goodman to end the inning.

Bobby Brown's home following Phil Rizzuto's punt single made 5-2 in the eighth but Page never let up. He whiffed Bridge Tebbetts pinch hitter Matt Batts and Dom DiMaggio to end the game.

Rain knocked out the Cleveland-Detroit and Philadelphia-Washington games but the Chicago White Sox scumpered home with a 7-1 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Bill Wight stumped the Browns with a four-hitter.

In the National League St. Louis came from behind to shade Chicago 3-2 after Brooklyn nosed out Boston 5-4. The Cards still lead by one full game.

Four sharp singles in the last of the ninth pulled the Cards out of a loss that would have left them only one percentage point ahead of the Browns. Glenn Nelson who hit a homer in the fifth started the winning surge. Solly Hemus, Nippy Jones and Marty Marion followed his lead to give Howie Pollet win No. 18.

Violence flared in Flatbush as Eddie Stanky of the Braves and Spider Jorgensen of the Dodgers squared off in a fist fight that involved members of both clubs. After both were ejected Eddie Miksis replaced Jorgensen. He came through with the game-winning blow a two-run homer in the seventh inning his first of the year.

Stanky apparently spiked Jorgensen accidentally while pivoting for a double play in the fifth. Both players went down and there was a wild flurry before order was restored.

Jack Banta striking out nine en route to his eighth win gave way to Joe Batten when the Braves threatened in the ninth. Batten ended the game with the pitch to pinch hitter Mickey Livingston.

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Smoky Joe Page is the man of the hour for the embattled New York Yankees.

Hero in 1947 but a failure in 1948 the strong-armed fireman from the bullpen is a leading candidate for the most valuable player in the American League.

Page never was better than he was last night as he struck out four of the five men he faced in the Yankees' important 5-2 victory over Boston.

Called to the rescue of Allie Reynolds after Bobby Doerr tripped with the potential tying run in the eighth Page blazed his fast ball past the Red Sox in a sizzling performance.

Boston took an early lead on Reynolds' wildness but the Yankees struck back to go ahead 3-2 on Bill Johnson's second triple and a costly error by Vern Stephens before Page appeared on the scene.

Large Crowd Expected at Opening Game

Despite the weather which was aided by scattered rainfall last night, the football feeling is in the air and most local fans are ready for the opening game Friday night between the strong DeQueen eleven and the Hope Bobcats.

Hot weather is likely to slow the game up a bit tomorrow night but probably will take nothing away from the thrill department. Past Hope-DeQueen contests have always proved interesting from start to finish.

And its usually an upset affair. Very few times have the two squads been rated about equal and more than one contest the underdog has come out the victor.

Hope will be trying to make this contest run along the same pattern. Bobby Ellen's crew is ruled slight favorites due mainly to experience, and depth in the back department.

The local boys are heavy and willing enough but lack that much needed experience. A lot will depend on how James Johnson develops at guard and Morris Barreline and Gordon Bensley as ends. Other linemen are fairly well off in the experience department with Odis Keith and Burgess Garrett at guards, Dick Bruner at center and John Watson at the other guard post.

Hope's backfield is experienced, all having lettered last season, during Pittsburgh 5-2.

The Giants and Phillies were not scheduled.

Porkers to Scrimmage Saturday

By The Associated Press

John Barnhill's T-minded Arkansas Razorbacks will get down to serious business Saturday.

A full dress scrimmage, the first rough contact work of the 1949 training season, has been ordered for Saturday morning.

Barnhill isn't expecting a lot of serious trouble but hopes to plug up any possible weak spots in his newly adopted T formation should a patchup job be needed.

The Porker gridders romped through a dummy scrimmage Tuesday. They worked on improving their timing on the line and downfield blocking.

Sammy Furo, recent transfer from Magnolia A. and M. had a field day in the workout. The speedy youngster turned in a good job at right half.

Two of Barnhill's top notch players are on the injury list but the Arkansas mentor hopes they'll see action in Saturday's mixup. Ray Parks suffered a slightly sprained ankle and Louis Schunle turned up with blistered feet. Both suited out Tuesday but saw little action.

At Fort Worth, the Texas Christian university gridders turned in an impressive performance during Wednesday's scrimmage.

Coach L. R. Dutch Meyer hinted that several promotions may be upcoming. End Wilson George of Fort Worth, Fullback Otis McKelvey of Odessa, Tex., and Quarterback Dan Wilde of Graham, Tex., were particularly effective, Meyer announced.

Seven TCU players are on the casualty list but nothing serious. Line scrimmage and passing took up most of the time at Southern Methodist university's drills Wednesday. Coach Matt Bell worked his backfield in aerial practice in hopes of spotting a replacement for Paul Page, poison to enemy passers the last few years.

The Rice Owls spent most of the day performing for photographers. Following a morning drill on fundamentals, head Coach Jess Neely turned his squad over to photographers for the afternoon. The Owls meet Clemson in Houston, Tex., Sept. 24 for the season opener.

MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD

WILL CEASE OPERATING

2 p.m. Friday, September 9

WHY?

Because Engine and Train Service Employees Will Quit Their Jobs Rather Than Arbitrate Their Differences

Cause of the Dispute

This is because of a difference in interpretation of written agreements between our railroad and its train service employees as to which employees should have been used for service already performed by others, or the proper compensation for services, past or future, whether covered by agreement or not.

The Proper Disposition of the Dispute

Disputes of this character have always existed in the railroad industry just as in other industries. In 1926 the railroads and their employees requested legislation which Congress enacted as the Railway Labor Act providing methods for disposition of disputes such as the one in which the Missouri Pacific and its employees are engaged. The Railroad Adjustment Board was established in 1934 at the request of the labor organizations as a tribunal with lawful authority to hear and settle these disputes. The employees of the Missouri Pacific now say they will not submit these cases to the Railroad Adjustment Board for disposition, although this Board was established at their request to make possible the peaceful settlement of such cases.

The Railway Labor Act also provides that when other means fail to dispose of cases of the character involved in the disputes, the President of the United States may in his discretion appoint an Emergency Board of three men to hear the matter in dispute and recommend a fair and equitable way of settlement. The President of the United States did appoint such an Emergency Board on the Missouri Pacific on July 8, 1949, and it heard both sides of the dispute and submitted its report to the President on August 2nd.

It is with great regret we make this announcement because we fully realize the personal hardship this strike will inflict on thousands of people not in any way connected with this dispute, and the fact that many industries will be forced to close their plants when Missouri Pacific transportation ceases. While this strike has not been called on International Great Northern Railroad and Gulf Coast Lines it will result in discontinuance of Missouri Pacific Lines through service with this part of the Missouri Pacific Lines system.

President Truman's Emergency Board has recommended arbitration under the Railway Labor Act and in the end some form of arbitration is the only way that such matters can be settled. The Missouri Pacific has repeatedly agreed to accept the decision of an arbitration board, whether the decision is for or against the railroad.

The officers of the four train service brotherhoods have said they will not arbitrate under any conditions. This strike, therefore, will be the sole responsibility of the officers of the four train service brotherhoods who prefer to call a strike rather than submit to democratic processes for solution of the dispute.

The Missouri Pacific has accepted the findings of this Board. The train service employees of the Missouri Pacific have refused to accept the findings of the board, thus nullifying the letter and spirit of American democracy which is exemplified by a mutual, cooperative settlement of grievances between management and labor, rather than by recourse to the use of force through the strike weapon.

Missouri Pacific's Position

First, we believe in obeying the letter and spirit of the laws of the country, in this case the Railway Labor Act, whose fate seems to hang in the balance.

Second, we have an obligation to our shippers and travelers to furnish them transportation at a reasonable cost in keeping with the responsibilities set forth for railroad management in the Transportation Act of the United States.

Third, the owners of this property are entitled to fair consideration to the end that the cost of operating it shall not be out of keeping with the industry generally.

Finally, we must stand on these principles in spite of the fact that the train service organizations will not do so.

Where the Responsibility for the Present Emergency Lies

The responsibility plainly lies with the officers of the four train service brotherhoods involved because they have a remedy at law and by the conclusions of the President's Emergency Board and they will not accept either.
